August 2010

Dear Curlers,

It is our pleasure to offer you the 2010-11 Curling Resource Guide through our partnership with the Canadian Expat Network. This resource guide contains a listing of U.S. curling clubs, as many upcoming bonspiels as we know about, feature articles, rules, photos and much more. This is just the first year of this new project, so we welcome your feedback and hope that we can continue this Guide well into the future.

The curling world is a unique and close-knit community, making this project with the Canadian Expat Network just another way to bring everyone together in our shared goal of growing the sport of curling worldwide. In the U.S. alone, curling has grown about 27 percent in the past decade. We now count 157 curling clubs, with many more in the planning stages.

The guide is in electronic format, which makes it easy for you to share with others in the curling community who may find it useful.

You'll also find an opportunity to win two tickets to the 2011 Continental Cup of Curling in St. Albert, Alberta. The Continental Cup is a great event for U.S. and Canadian teams to unite and enjoy camaraderie with other great teams from around the world, combined with exciting competition on the ice. Please enter today, as the contest ends Dec. 1/2010.

Win Ticket Package for Two to the Continental Cup in Alberta

USA Curling and the Canadian Expat Network are pleased to announce a Giveaway for a ticket package for two to the 2011 World Financial Group Continental Cup.

The unique international curling competition, featuring Team North America versus Team World, will take place from 13-16 January 2011 at Servus Credit Union Place in the Performance Arena which has seating for approximately 2,000 and is currently home to the St. Albert Steel of the Alberta Junior Hockey League and the Edmonton Drillers football team. The City of St. Albert, with a population of 58,000, is located just north of Edmonton — around 20 minutes drive from the capital of Alberta.

Team World v Team North America. Twelve teams in total: three mens and three womens teams for both Team World and Team North America. This is a four-day event featuring regular Team games, Mixed Doubles, Singles, Mixed Skins and Skins games. Points are awarded for wins or ties in each discipline. The first team to reach 200 points is declared the winner.

The 2011 event will mark the seventh edition of the ‘Cup’, which began in 2002 in Regina and has been compared to golf’s Ryder Cup. Currently, Team North America and Team World are tied at three wins each.

An advertisement for CurlingMANAGER. At the top is the logo, a red target with a blue curling stone in the center, followed by the text 'CurlingMANAGER' and 'Curling Club Website + Member & League Communications & Management'. The main text reads 'It's a club website & club management software all in one!' with 'all in one!' in a larger, stylized font. Below that, it says 'save! time, money & resources' with 'save!' in a large font. At the bottom, it says 'See how it can be yours for free!' and 'Visit our website for full details & features.' followed by the website address 'www.curlingmanager.com'.

USA Curling Continues To Grow

It was another successful Olympic Winter Games for the U.S. in terms of growth of the sport nationwide. Curling, once again, was a TV hit during the Vancouver Olympic Games with interest skyrocketing – especially in the Southeast U.S.

According to a recent brand trafficking survey conducted by the U.S. Olympic Committee, curling and snowboarding made the biggest fan base gains post-Vancouver.

Of course, the eye-catching pants worn by the Norwegian curling team during the Olympic Games helped bring some other type of attention to the sport. But for a sport competing with the exciting twists and turns of snowboarding and skiing and bitter hockey rivalries producing board-smacking hits and bloody faces, almost any kind of attention is positive, right?

USA Curling currently boasts 157 member clubs in 37 states. Membership growth numbers will be determined in January 2011 when club dues are collected. From 2002-2009, the sports official membership grew 27 percent from 10,805 to 13,684 registered members.

Social media, such as Facebook, has been a driving force in assisting new clubs to form, especially in the southeast where ice availability is scarce. Facebook allows the interested fans to discuss how to build a club and schedule meetings to make this happen. Facebook helped those aforementioned Norwegian pants become legendary, even evoking its own Facebook page to display the various patterns.

Many new clubs have formed or are in the process of finding ice to begin the process of establishing a curling club. Some notable additions include:

WHITEFISH CURLING CLUB: Montana's first official curling club has formed in Whitefish, Mont., and uses ice at the Stumptown Ice Den.

OKLAHOMA CURLING CLUB: Oklahoma's first official curling club has formed in Edmond at the Arctic Edge Arena.

CHARLOTTE CENTRE CURLING CLUB: North Carolina added its second curling club when the club in Charlotte formed in the spring of 2010 at the Pineville Ice House.

PALMETTO CURLING CLUB: South Carolina got on the map with a curling club in early 2010 with the formation of the Palmetto club in Greenville at the Greenville Recreation Pavilion.

ORANGE COUNTY CURLING CLUB: The popularity of curling in the Los Angeles area has been evident in the past few years as the Hollywood Curling Club continues to grow in the metropolitan area. The Valencia CC is an offshoot of the Hollywood Club while the Orange County Club

CINCINNATI CURLING CLUB: It took a few years of persistence but the Cincinnati Curling Club has roots down at the Indian Hill Winter Club.

HELLO, RHODE ISLAND!: The smallest U.S. state debuted the Ocean State Curling Club by rotating its location from a few different arenas in the Middleton area.

VERMONT GROWTH: Vermont welcomed another curling club in the spring of 2010 with the introduction of the Equinox Curling Club at Riley Rink in Manchester Center.

INDIANA: The Hoosier state added its second curling club with the formation of the Fort Wayne Curling Club. The club quickly held its first bonspiel with roaring success, just months after forming.

Upward growth pattern:

CALIFORNIA: The Golden State became a curling hotbed in the past 10 years with the growth of the sport, prominently in southern California. The organizers from the Hollywood Curling Club have been instrumental in developing the sport in this area. Open houses have been held in Valencia and Bakersfield recently. California now boasts five active curling clubs.

LAS VEGAS: Open houses were held in Las Vegas in the summer of 2010 at the Las Vegas Ice Center to introduce Sin City to the sport of curling.

THE SOUTH: Several clubs are trying to form in Florida, where a club briefly existed after the 2002 Olympic Games. Facebook pages indicate clubs in Tampa Bay, Orlando, Coral Springs (held an open house in May at the practice facility of the NHL's Florida Panthers and is the current home to 2010 Olympian curler Jason Smith); Louisiana Curling Club (New Orleans, La.), Cactus Curling Club (Tucson, Ariz.); Atlanta Curling Club (Atlanta, Ga.), Richmond Curling Club (Richmond, Va.), and several more spots that are trying in earnest to locate ice facilities that will accommodate curling.

Celebrity curlers in the mix: We all remember country singer Toby Keith's fascination with the sport after the 2006 Olympic Games. This time around, the sport captured the eyes of San Francisco 49er Pro Bowl tight end Vernon Davis. He not only served as the honorary captain for the men's Olympic curling, but cared enough about the sport afterward to showcase it during his annual charity event for the Vernon Davis Foundation in July 2010 in San Francisco.

A curling music video, which included Oscar winner Jamie Foxx, by the LA-based hip-hop group LMFAO debuted in July 2010 as well. This created a spin-off mini video featuring the artists in a make-believe curling match.

So, curling has hit the mainstream in the U.S. thanks greatly in part to NBC's commitment to airing 9 hours of daily coverage during the Vancouver Olympic Games.

Canadians Teams enjoy the Southern Hospitality at Knoxville Bonspiel

Who says that selling spots for a bonspiel can't be like a rock concert! The Great Smokey Mountains Curling Club in Knoxville, TN recently sold out all the spots for their 24 Team Bonspiel in less than 11 hours, through PayPal. Not bad for the Club's 6th Bonspiel!

With the success of the 2002 Olympics in Salt Lake City, curling found its way to Knoxville, TN. In 2004, it became an official club. Sandra Takata, the Club's VP and formerly from Etobicoke, Ontario, enjoys being part of the close knit family." We have a nice mix of curlers, a third originally from Canada, another third from the Northern states and the remaining members from the local area. For people who didn't grow up with the sport, first there's an interest in being able to walk on ice and then, they learn the sport and have a lot of fun," Takata comments.

Their first bonspiel attracted 22 teams and created awareness by emailing multiple curling associations. A number of Canadian teams came down for the event, held during the first weekend of June. "There was a certain novelty to be able to play in shorts and t-shirts," Takata states. Since then, they've worked closely with Knoxville Tourism to help promote golfing, hiking and shopping at nearby outlet malls. The historical district has proven popular to visitors. The bonspiel finishes with a banquet at the Yacht Club.

While the Olympics in '02 provided the foundation for starting the club, the recent Vancouver Olympics has helped in providing the growth. "We had a couple open houses during the games and had over 400 people check out the rinks," Takata shares.

Great to see curling successes in the South!

Grass Roots Curling Program from Capital One Rocks & Rings

The Capital One Rocks & Rings program is designed to introduce the Olympic sport of curling to elementary school children.

By bringing the curling rink to the school gym we reach children that would otherwise not have access to the roaring game.

The best part? We bring everything to the kids - no field trip or school buses required! Curling is a highly social sport that can be enjoyed for a lifetime. It is a fantastic physical activity that can be enjoyed by all ages and abilities. It also promotes sportsmanship and camaraderie and is an inexpensive and less dangerous alternative to many other sports.

SUCCESS STATS AND FIGURES

We recently wrapped up our second year of operations and reached over 50,000 kids during the 2009-10 school year. We're currently in 6 cities in Canada (Vancouver, Regina, Winnipeg, Toronto, Ottawa and Halifax) and have ambitious plans for further expansion in 2010-11 when we will be adding approximately 6 – 10 more cities/regions.

U.S. & INTERNATIONAL EXPANSION PLANS

We have been approached by a number of groups wanting to launch the program in their countries and will be doing so soon. Of course our neighbors (not neighbours!) to the south are top of our priority list. We are currently looking for a title sponsor of the Rocks & Rings program for the US market and once we have one we're hoping to be able to launch in 10 markets and grow from there. In the meantime we are working with a handful of US groups to explore piloting the program in their respective areas.

Curling is gaining immensely in popularity due to the Olympics, more so outside of Canada in countries where the sport is less "mainstream". The US falls in love with the sport every 4 years and curling hangs on to more and more of those followers each Olympic quadrennial.

Once up and running, the Rocks & Rings program will be the vehicle that introduces the future stars and American curling medalists to the roaring game. Soon your kids will be coming home from school and telling you all about the Rocks & Rings program and how much they love curling!
